DC Lane are delighted to present this exceptional family home, rich in character and enviably positioned on the fringes of Central Park and within a short stroll from the city centre and railway station. Seamlessly blending classic period features with contemporary touches, this impressive property offers an atmosphere of warmth, space and classic charm throughout.

Upon entering, leaded glass doors open into a welcoming hallway boasting stripped floorboards setting a warm and characterful tone, a feature that continues throughout most of the ground floor. The principal reception room is a truly impressive space, generous in size and rich in colour with a period fireplace serving as a focal point and a bay window flooding the room with natural light. Flowing seamlessly from the lounge through sliding doors, the dining room provides a refined setting for both intimate family meals and larger gatherings, comfortably accommodating a statement dining table and chairs. A modern woodburner adds a stylish focal point while bringing warmth and comfort to the space and extends effortlessly into a generous proportioned kitchen boasting ample cabinetry, solid wood block worktops and abundant space for cooking, dining and socialising, this impressive kitchen truly forms the heart of the home. A vibrantly styled cloakroom completes the ground floor accommodation. To the first floor are two well proportioned double bedrooms, each retaining their original period fireplaces together with a single bedroom suited equally to a nursery or home office. The family bathroom is tastefully appointed with a shower over the bath and a loft ladder provides easy access to the loft space.

Externally, the low maintenance garden offers a private and practical outdoor space, further benefiting from rear service lane access.

Spacious, characterful and enviably positioned, this superb home achieves a harmonious balance of style and functionality and simply must be viewed to be fully appreciated.
